

LOCAL DOTS

Rev. W. S. Patterson, pastor of the A. R. P. church, has returned from York where he presided Wednesday at a called meeting of the First Presbytery of the A. R. P. church.

A congregational meeting will be held immediately after the morning service at the Presbyterian church Sunday for the purpose of electing three additional elders and four additional deacons for the church. A full congregational meeting is requested.

"The Prince and the Pauper," an interesting photoplay from Mark Twain's story of the same name, was shown at The Star theatre yesterday and the admirers of Marguerite Clark enjoyed her acting of the dual role of Prince of Wales and beggar boy. The historical setting, portraying various phases of English life during reign of Henry VIII, gave the picture an educational value at once pleasing and instructive. Manager Parr is to be congratulated upon securing such a worthwhile production.

Ed McIlwain, colored, while cutting wood on Mr. W. S. Kirk's place accidentally cut his leg and came near bleeding to death before the wound could be staunch. Though weakened by reason of his loss of blood, the negro's condition is satisfactory and it is expected that he will recover.

Cotton is bringing 11 1-4 cents per pound in Lancaster today and cottonseed 63 cents per bushel.

The secretary of state has issued a charter to the Harper Hardware Company of this place with a capital of $6,000. The officers are Robert S. Harper, president and A. F. Giles, secretary and treasurer.

C. C. Horton, who spent several weeks in and near Kershaw with relatives and friends, returned to the Soldiers Home in Columbia Saturday. Mr. Horton speaks in highest terms of the management of the Home under its present efficient superintendent and his estimable wife.—Kershaw Era.

MILL VILLAGE.

Mrs. Maud Pitman visited her sister, Mrs. Estelle Hogan of Great Falls.

The little grandchild of Mr. J. A. Steele is very sick with whooping-cough.

Little Howard Snipes who has been down with typhoid fever is improving now.

Mrs. Mary Carnes is still very sick.

Miss Oliva McGuirt who has been very low at Mr. Ernest McAteer's passed away Thursday night about eight o'clock.

Miss Dillie Adams who has been in bad health for sometime is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Bettie Reily was taken to the Fennell infirmary last week for treatment.

Field Day for Colored People.

The Field Day and Farmer's Convention will be held at the Lancaster Normal and Industrial school (colored) on March 16th, 1916. All colored schools of this county are invited to attend and especially all teachers are requested to be present on that day.

M. D. Lee,
Principal.

Mr. Stevenson's Views.

The last statement made by Mr. W. F. Stevenson as to what Congress should do for a farming district like this was that it had spent $475,000,000.00 on rivers and nothing on roads. It has also spent $100,000,000.00 on irrigation projects, to water lands for less than 1,000,000 people in the West. Why not do something to take the water out of the roads in the South?

In South Carolina, the state and counties and towns and townships spent in 1914 about $1,000,000.00 on roads, and still of the 45, 549 miles of roads in the State only 4,888 miles are surfaced and really improved—and that is the work of years. 40,661 miles are yet to be fixed, and all must be maintained. The Government carries mail over most of them; why is it not right for it to help fix them?—Adv.

SOCIAL NEWS.

Mrs. R. E. Wylie entertained the lady teachers of the Central Graded school Wednesday afternoon. In the library was a supply of tissue paper of every shade which the guests were asked to fashion into spring bonnets. In a half hour deft fingers had evolved pattern hats of every style and these were placed on stands and inspected by their makers, who were asked to ballot for the most artistic creation. The hat made by Miss Johnnie May Lynch was voted the best effort at millinery and Miss Lynch was presented with a pair of gold hatpins.

During the afternoon Mrs. Wylie invited her guests into the dining room where refreshments in three courses were served. The centerpiece of the table was a glass basket full of jonquils, hyacinths and other spring flowers. Shaded candle light shed a soft glow over the table and each place was marked with a jonquil place card.

Freak Cabbage.

Mr. G. L. Cauthen of the Dry Creek section left at the News office this week a curiosity from the vegetable kingdom. It consists of several dozen cabbage plants grown tightly together on tall stalks like celery with a head slightly resembling cauliflower. For six inches above the root the several stalks are united in one and then branch out at the top into a growth of small leaves.

CLERK'S SALE.
STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
County of Lancaster

Ernest Moore, Plaintiff, vs.
J. F. Williams, et al, Defendants.

Pursuant to a decree made in the above stated case by Special Judge Thos. F. McDow, dated March 15th, 1915, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at Lancaster Court House, on the first Monday in March, next, within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate, to wit:

All that certain piece, parcel or tract of land lying, situate and being in the county of Lancaster state of South Carolina, containing two hundred and forty and three-fourths (240 3-4) acres, more or less, bounded on the north by lands of F. M. Stogner; on the east by lands of John Riddle and estate of F. P. Giles; on the south by estate lands of F. P. Giles and on the west by H. J. Beckham, and being the same lands conveyed to J. F. Williams by F. M. Stogner by deed recorded in R. M. C. office for said county in Deed Book L, page 490, and there described as two parcels of adjoining lands containing one hundred and ninety and fifty acres respectively.

Said lands will be sold at the risk of the former purchaser.

Terms of sale, cash. Purchaser to pay for papers.

Allied Relief Association.

The Charleston Branch of the National Allied Relief Association, working under the auspices of the Colonial Dames, has been encouraged by voluntary contributions received from various parts of the State to believe that there are many people in South Carolina who would like to contribute to this work.

The officers of the Association in Charleston will be only too glad to receive such contributions. The needs are urgent. The money which has been raised thus far has been devoted to purchasing hospital and surgical supplies and comforts for the wounded. Outfits for destitute children have also been forwarded. Three shipment of such supplies have already gone and in addition to this the Association has sent to the American Ambulance Hospital in Paris a check for $150.

This organization, which is supported entirely by voluntary contributions from Americans, has been doing very valuable work in caring for wounded soldiers. It has been faced lately with a threatened shortage of funds, the war having lasted so much longer than was anticipated and the work of the Ambulance Hospital having been correspondingly heavy.

The Charleston Branch of the Allied Relief Association will be glad to receive contributions from any person in South Carolina and checks may be sent to Mrs. W. H. Brawley, 9 Legare street, or Miss R. D. Byran, 110 Broad street.

Side by Side.

"Clark and Mann fight side by side," runs the headline. So long as the big leaders in Congress fight side by side for the good of the country the nation's is safe. It is when they play little politics that the people feel like wringing their necks.—Salisbury Post.

Mr. D. W. Hendrix of Heath Springs was a visitor in Lancaster today.

A SAFE BACKGROUND

The background behind a business man has much to do with the aspect which he presents to his community. When he has close and continued relations with a substantial banking institution, the bank becomes, in a way, his background and adds strength to his efforts towards success. The same rule applies to business man, farmer and individual. "The Old Reliable" offers a very desirable banking connection from this standpoint, and invites your account, whether large or small.
